If you aren't an iPhone fan, you may be because the new Apple iPhone 5 is coming soon to Apple stores near you.

The rumors and speculations of Apple iPhone 5 is making rounds for over few months now but today we have found leaked photos and videos of iPhone 5 in the wild.

These come from Chinese supplier iLab Factory , which has released photos depicting a fully-assembled iPhone 5. The device pictured features an updated speaker arrangement, that new (and smaller) dock connector, and what looks to be a two-tone metal casing. Sadly, the video from Macotakara only shows the casing. However, it does seem to align with what we saw in iLab's photos, with that same dock-connector, speaker arrangement and two-tone casing.
